IT LAW | DATA PROTECTION | IP AND COMPETITION LAW |

Daniel Hußmann advises on IT projects and is regularly involved in the management of complex software development, outsourcing and restructuring operations. His clients include large and medium-sized companies in the data industry. The dynamic requirements from Brussels (Data Act, Data Governance Act, AI Act & Co.) particularly require a special focus when drafting contracts.

Another key area of his practice is data protection law, in which Daniel Hußmann supports his clients in drafting contracts and represents them in disputes (in particular in connection with the defense against class actions). In data-driven start-up consulting - another focus of his work - Daniel Hußmann advises on corporate law structuring options and regularly deals with legal issues relating to the AI-driven data economy.

Curriculum Vitae

Daniel Hußmann studied in Düsseldorf, Hull (England) and Münster, where he focused on information and data protection law.

After his first state examination, Daniel Hußmann worked as a legal tutor in Münster and at a major German law firm in the areas of IP and competition law. He spent his legal clerkship at a leading international law firm in Düsseldorf in the field of IT/IP.

After his second state examination in 2018, Daniel Hußmann joined KÜMMERLEIN and completed his doctorate on the subject of data ownership alongside his work. His research results now accompany him in his consulting practice. Daniel Hußmann advises in German and English.
