EMPLOYMENT LAW |

Jonathan Malte Emanuel Monz has many years of experience in advising large and medium-sized companies and group of companies in all areas of individual and collective employment law. He is particularly interested in supporting reorganisation measures, the use of external staff and the stabilisation of co-determination structures. He regularly represents clients in court and out-of-court proceedings and is a lecturer at training courses on employment law and author of various publications.

Clients appreciate him not only for his excellent support, but also for his collegial manner and speed of response.

Curriculum Vitae

Jonathan M.E. Monz joined Kümmerlein Rechtsanwälte und Notare in March 2021. Previously, he was a lawyer in the employment law practice group of Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer, Düsseldorf from June 2014 to February 2021, most recently as Principal Associate. He provided advice on various national and international restructurings and reorganisations as well as mergers and acquisitions. He was in charge of advising on a large number of measures under works constitution law and also entrusted with drafting, implementation and termination of employment contracts with executives and the establishment of European public limited companies (Societas Europaea).

He completed his legal traineeship at the Regional Court of Essen with stages in Münster, Düsseldorf and London. He studied at the Westfälische Wilhelms Universität in Münster and speaks fluent German and English.
