EMPLOYMENT LAW | LITIGATION AND ARBITRATION |

A decisive part of Kümmerlein Rechtsanwälte & Notare`s Department of Labour Law has been built up by Dr. Martin Mönks. Since 1991 he has been solely responsible for labour law at the firm. His professional focus lies in collective labour law, particularly pertaining to corporate, business and operational restructuring. His expertise covers the entire consulting process, starting from the analysis of the labour law situation to advising on possible legal designs and wage and salary agreements and ending with the individual labour law implementation.

Dr. Martin Mönks advises numerous branches of private and public enterprises as well as privatized companies with public shareholders, and also counsels international clients on aspects of labour law.

Curriculum Vitae

After studying Law in Münster, Dr. Martin Mönks sat his first legal state examination in 1988. Parallel to completing his legal clerkship and passing his second legal state examination in 1991, he acquired his doctoral title of Dr.jur. with a thesis in the field of labour law. In 1991 he took up practising law at Kümmerlein Rechtsanwälte & Notare.

Dr. Martin Mönks speaks German and English.
